

Conference Call Minutes

January 15th, 2012 7:00 PM

Attendance: Chad Swenson, Chris Soper, Scott Ralston, Ryan Foley, Brad Olson, Bob Rezac, Brandon Wehner

HAM radio is up and running at the tower.

Trusses are going up on the second level of the building for the Trading Post. The lack of snow has had a negative effect on winter campers. Interviews will be done this week to fill staff positions.

The winter Aurora will go out on the January 30th. Any last minute additions should be put in this week.

39 people attended the Fall Fellowship. A lot of work got done on the Trading Post.

July 6th will be the day of the Open House.

We are still sending out invitations for the Alumni Association to potential members. Chris put together a Cub Scout Staff member book. Current funding is $3,357.02 as of January 1st. We have a lot of big deposits and withdrawals going on from the fundraisers. Adam Dewey will be the coordinator for the socials and will be communicating with the social chairs.

We are gathering a list of people to help out with the Museum at camp. We are looking at rotating the content so the Museum will always be new and interesting to its visitors. The proposals have been sent out via e-mail by Chad. The building will be located at the entrance of the Trading Post, where the old Quartermaster shop resided.

Over the past year we have done 12 separate concession fundraisers at the Fargodome. During that time nearly $4,000 was raised. We have developed a good rapport with the staff there, and our event staff shirts have been complimented for their professional look.

We have been asked to help fund a stained glass window project between the Scout office and the conference center. Most Scout offices don't have artwork like this, and this would be a fine signature piece for us to contribute. Chad moved to start the fundraiser, seconded by Ryan.
